Case No. C09-5410RJB

ORDER ON MOTION FOR
PARTIAL DISMISSAL
PURSUANT TO RULE 12 (b)(6)
and ON MOTION FOR LEAVE
TO AMEND THE COMPLAINT

21 This matter comes before the Court on Defendant Clallam County Public Hospital District No. 2's
22 Motion for Partial Dismissal Pursuant to Rule 12 (b)(6) (Dkt. 9), Plaintiff's Motion to Certify a Question
23 to the Washington State Supreme Court (Dkt. 11), and Plaintiff's Motion for Leave to Amend the 24 Complaint (Dkt. 11). The court has reviewed the pleadings filed in favor and opposition to the motions 25 and the remainder of the record herein.

26 I. FACTS AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

27 On July 8, 2009, the plaintiff filed this complaint, alleging claims under § 4 of the Clayton Act, 15
28 U.S.C. §§ 15-26 "seeking damages and injunctive relief from economic injury caused by defendant to

1 competition and commerce in the relevant market and to the business property and livelihood of [Plaintiff]
2 Dr. Witham caused by defendant's violation of § 2 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2." Dkt. 1 at 2. The 3 plaintiff also asserts claims under Washington's tort law and the Washington State Consumer Protection
4 Act ("WCPA"). Id. at 3.

5 According to the complaint, Plaintiff Robert R. Witham, M.D., is a resident of Clallam County,
6 Washington. Id. at 1. He is board-certified in internal medicine and limits his practice to oncology and 7 gastroenterology. Id. at 1-2.

8 The complaint alleges that Defendant Clallam County Public Hospital District No. 2, d/b/a Olympic 9 Medical Center ("OMC"), is "a Washington non-profit municipal corporation formed in November 1951
10 pursuant to [Wash. Rev. Code] 70.44, et seq., to provide hospital services to the residents of Clallam
11 County, Washington." Id. The complaint alleges that Defendant Olympic Hospitalist Physicians, P.S., 12 ("OHP") "provides hospitalist services at OMC pursuant to a contract between OHP and OMC." Id.

13 Dr. Witham alleges in his complaint that the market for medical oncology services in the Port
14 Angeles and Sequim area was relatively open and competitively priced between 1984 and 2007. Dkt. 1 ¶
15 18. Dr. Witham's private practice peaked in 2005, when he treated more than 100 cancer care patients per 16 month, mostly in his office away from the hospital. Id. According to the complaint, OMC branched off 17 from its prior business practice of providing hospital care and services for doctors and their patients, and 18 began hiring physicians to directly provide medical services. Id. ¶¶ 26-27. Dr. Witham alleges that OMC
19 formed its own medical group known as Olympic Medical Physicians ("OMP"), and the physicians
20 employed by OMP began to compete with independent physicians in Clallam County. According to Dr.
21 Witham, OMC now monopolizes and controls the market for physician services in Clallam County. Id.

22 Dr. Witham further alleges that OMC has eliminated competition by making arrangements with 23 formerly independent physicians to provide oncology referrals solely to OMC-employed physicians. Id. ¶¶
24 41-45. Additionally, Dr. Witham alleges that the hospitalists employed by OMC, as well as the group of 25 hospitalists that contract with OMC known collectively as OHP, have further caused referrals for specialty
26 physicians' services such as oncology to go only to OMC-employed specialists. Id. ¶¶ 49-53. Dr. Witham
27 alleges that these hospitalists have intentionally interfered with his practice by actively steering his patients
28 away from his care and into the care of OMC-employed physicians. Dkt. 1 ¶¶ 47-53.

1 Dr. Witham alleges that the relevant geographic market in this action is Clallam County,
2 Washington, and that OMC owns and operates the only cancer care treatment facilities in the county. Id. ¶
3 58. Dr. Witham alleges that the relevant market in this action is “the provision of adult medical oncology
4 services, including the acquisition and administration of cancer care drugs and other pharmaceuticals used
5 in the treatment of cancer, within the Relevant Geographic Market.” Id. ¶¶ 58-59. According to Dr.
6 Witham, OMC’s market share of medical oncology services was zero in 1990, and has now reached 95
7 percent. Id. ¶ 61.

8 Dr. Witham alleges that he is the only reasonable alternative for patients in need of medical 9 oncology services in the relevant geographic market because there are no other independent oncologists
10 practicing in Clallam County that are unaffiliated with OMC. Id. ¶ 62.

11 Dr. Witham makes the following claims in his complaint:

12 (1) that OMC has violated Section 2 of the Sherman Antitrust Act, 15 U.S.C. § 2, by taking 13 anticompetitive actions with the intent to monopolize the relevant market;

14 (2) that OMC has violated the Washington Consumer Protection Act (WCPA), Wash. Rev. Code § 15 19.86.040, by monopolizing intrastate commerce for the provision of medical oncology services in 16 Clallam County;

17 (3) that OMC and OHP have violated the WCPA, Wash. Rev. Code § 19.86.020, by committing 18 unfair and deceptive actions to further their own economic interests at the expense of the plaintiff;

19 (4) that OMC and OHP have committed the tort of tortious interference in a contractual 20 relationship and business expectancies by interfering with the contracts that Dr. Witham enjoyed 21 with patients and referring physicians; and

22 (5) that OMC and OHP have committed the tort of commercial disparagement by publishing or 23 disseminating false statements about Dr. Witham to intentionally injure Dr. Witham’s reputation 24 and to obtain a competitive advantage.

25 Id. at 19-26.

26 Defendant OMC now files a motion for partial dismissal of the plaintiff’s claims, arguing that: 1)
27 the plaintiff has failed to state a claim for antitrust damages under the federal statutes because OMC is 28 entitled to absolute immunity under the Local Government Antitrust Act (“LGAA”), 15 U.S.C. § 35; and 29 2) the plaintiff has failed to state claims under WCPA because OMC is not subject to suit under the Act.
30 Dkt. 9. Specifically, OMC moves for dismissal of plaintiff’s claims one, two, and three. Dkt. 9.

31 Plaintiff responds, arguing that: 1) OMC is liable under the Sherman Antitrust Act because it is 32 engaged in the illegal corporate practice of medicine which is not protected by the LGAA, and that even if

1 OMC were immune, injunction, costs, and attorney fees could still be awarded; and 2) OMC is liable under 2 the WCPA because the Act prohibits all unfair methods of competition, not just those entered into by 3 “persons” as defined in the Act, and because OMC has acted outside of its statutory authority thereby
4 losing any protection as a municipal corporation. Dkt. 11.

5 In the event that the court dismisses the plaintiff’s claims under the WCPA, the plaintiff argues that 6 the local law regarding whether a municipal corporation acting outside of its statutory authority is 7 exempted from the WCPA has not been clearly determined and requests the court to certify the question to 8 the Washington Supreme Court pursuant to Wash. Rev. Code § 2.60.020. Dkt. 11 at 14 n.6.

9 The plaintiff additionally moves to amend his complaint if the court grants OMC’s motion to 10 dismiss based on any pleading deficiency. Dkt. 11 at 17 n.7.

11 Defendant OMC replies, arguing that: 1) the LGAA affords local government entities like OMC 12 absolute immunity from antitrust damages claims; 2) OMC is not subject to suit under any provision of the 13 WCPA; 3) even if the plaintiff’s argument regarding the corporate practice of medicine were relevant, 14 OMC has acted within its statutory authority; and 4) the court should deny the plaintiff’s request to amend 15 his complaint. Dkt. 13.

16 II. DISCUSSION

17 A. MOTION TO DISMISS STANDARD

18 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(a)(2) provides that a pleading must contain a “short and plain 19 statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief.” Under Fed. R. Civ. P. 12 (b)(6), a 20 complaint may be dismissed for “failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted.” Dismissal of a 21 complaint may be based on either the lack of a cognizable legal theory or the absence of sufficient facts
22 alleged under a cognizable legal theory. Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Department, 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th 23 Cir. 1990). While a complaint attacked by a Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss does not need detailed factual
24 allegations, a plaintiff’s obligation to provide the grounds of his or her entitlement to relief requires more 25 than labels and conclusions, and a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action will not do.
26 Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007) (internal citations omitted).

27 Accordingly, “[t]o survive a motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, 28 accepted as true, to ‘state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face.’” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 129 S.Ct. 1937,

1 1949 (2009)(citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570). A claim has “facial plausibility” when the party seeking 2 relief “pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is 3 liable for the misconduct alleged.” Id. First, “a court considering a motion to dismiss can choose to begin
4 by identifying pleadings that, because they are no more than conclusions, are not entitled to the assumption
5 of truth.” Id., at 1950. Secondly, “[w]hen there are well-pleaded factual allegations, a court should 6 assume their veracity and then determine whether they plausibly give rise to an entitlement to relief.” Id.
7 “In sum, for a complaint to survive a motion to dismiss the non-conclusory factual content, and reasonable 8 inferences from that content must be plausibly suggestive of a claim entitling the pleader to relief.” Moss v.
9 U.S. Secret Service, 572 F.3d 962, 969 (9th Cir. 2009).

10 If a claim is based on a proper legal theory but fails to allege sufficient facts, the plaintiff should be 11 afforded the opportunity to amend the complaint before dismissal. Keniston v. Roberts, 717 F.2d 1295, 12 1300 (9th Cir. 1983). If the claim is not based on a proper legal theory, the claim should be dismissed. Id.
13 “Dismissal without leave to amend is improper unless it is clear, upon de novo review, that the complaint 14 could not be saved by any amendment.” Moss, 572 F.3d at 972.

15 B. MOTION TO DISMISS CLAIM FOR DAMAGES UNDER FEDERAL STATUTES
16 PURSUANT TO LOCAL GOVERNMENT ANTITRUST ACT

17 Defendant OMC argues that it is immune from damages under federal statutes because it acts as a 18 local government and is granted absolute immunity from antitrust damages under LGAA. The plaintiff
19 does not dispute the defendant’s contention that OMC is a local government within the meaning of the 20 LGAA, but argues that the protection afforded by the LGAA only extends while the governmental entity is 21 acting within its statutorily defined authority.

22 OMC argues a statutory construction of the LGAA that specifically grants absolute immunity to 23 local governments and qualified immunity to individuals. Under the LGAA, no damages, interest on 24 damages, costs, or attorney’s fees may be recovered for Sherman Act violations “from any local 25 government, or official or employee thereof acting in an official capacity.” 15 U.S.C. § 35(a). To OMC, 26 the placement of the comma within that sentence after “local government,” and the lack of a comma after 27 “official or employee thereof,” indicates that Congress intentionally distinguished between absolute liability 28 for a government and qualified immunity for an individual.

OMC draws further support for this interpretation from the conclusion of the court in Palm Springs

1 Medical Clinic, Inc. v. Desert Hosp., 628 F. Supp. 454 (C.D.Cal. 1986). The District Court in Palm
2 Springs undertook a comprehensive analysis of the LGAA's statutory construction and legislative history
3 to conclude that local governments are indeed entitled to absolute immunity under the Act. See id. at 459-4 63.

5 Conversely, the plaintiff cites no authority stating that local governments enjoy a limited or 6 qualified immunity from antitrust damages; the plaintiff's attempts to find support with a single District
7 Court case, an inapt analogy, and a footnote taken out of context from Palm Springs. First, the plaintiff
8 cites to Delta Turner, Ltd v. Grand Rapids-Kent County Convention/Arena Auth., 600 F. Supp. 2d 920
9 (W.D. Mich. 2009), for the proposition that the LGAA does not provide absolute immunity for a local 10 government that acts outside of its statutory authority. However, the District Court in Delta Turner
11 simply refused to rule on the question of immunity under the LGAA based on the development of the 12 factual record in that case. See id. at 933.

13 Second, the plaintiff draws the analogy of OMC purchasing every hotel and motel within the 14 relevant geographic market to charge inflated prices for its own benefit as a clearer example of a local 15 government acting outside of its statutory authority. Aside from being irrelevant to the determination of 16 whether the LGAA provides local governments absolute immunity or not, this analogy fails because the 17 actions considered are so far outside the scope of the governmental unit's mandate to be inapposite. This 18 case deals with a county hospital district and the plaintiff's claim that the district's provision of medical 19 care to patients violates federal antitrust laws. A hospital district providing medical services is not clearly 20 reaching beyond its statutory authority, as the case might be with a hospital district gaining an unfair 21 advantage in hotel pricing.

22 Lastly, the plaintiff excerpts a portion of a footnote from Palm Springs to contend that dismissal 23 was appropriate in that case solely because the plaintiff failed to allege in the complaint that the 24 governmental unit had acted outside of its statutory authority. The plaintiff concludes that Palm Springs
25 should not be followed in this case because here the plaintiff has explicitly alleged that OMC has acted
26 outside of its statutory authority. However, after making the statement relied on by the plaintiff, the cited
27 footnote proceeds to discuss how the House and Senate versions of the LGAA contemplated different 28 levels of immunity from antitrust actions. In the end, the court declined to adopt any "good faith"

1 requirement into analysis of whether local government action fell within the LGAA's protections. Palm
2 Springs, 628 F. Supp. at 458 n.3. Therefore, the decision in Palm Springs to grant absolute immunity to 3 the defendant's actions was not based solely on a pleading error; the plaintiff here cannot rely on curing 4 that pleading error as the only grounds to distinguish the Palm Springs holding.

5         Rather, the court agrees with the well-reasoned decision of the Palm Springs court, and therefore 6 agrees with OMC that the LGAA shields it from antitrust damages claims. Palm Springs, 628 F. Supp. at 7 464; accord Patel v. Midland Memorial Hospital and Medical Center, 298 F.3d 333, 346 (5th Cir.
8 2002)(holding that where parties agreed that hospital was a political subdivision of the state, it was entitled 9 to immunity under the LGAA); Crosby v. Hosp. Auth. Of Valdosta and Lowndes County, 93 F.3d 1515, 10 1535 (11th Cir. 1996)(holding that individual board members, when taking official action directed by a 11 local government, are equally covered under the LGAA as the larger Hospital Authority); Cohn v. Bond, 12 953 F.2d 154, 157 (4th Cir. 1991)(holding that hospital, staff, administrators, as well as non-employees 13 who act at the direction of hospital staff, are all immune from antitrust damages under the LGAA).
14 Accordingly, the plaintiff's first claim for damages, alleging violations of the Sherman Antitrust Act, 15
15 U.S.C. § 2, should be dismissed.

16         The defendant concedes that dismissal of the plaintiff's claim for damages does not dismiss his 17 Sherman Act claims for which he seeks injunctive relief under the Clayton Act. Dkt. 13, at 10. The 18 plaintiff's claim for injunctive relief, costs, and attorneys' fees for Sherman Act violations should remain.
19 Lancaster Community Hosp. v. Antelope Valley Hosp. Dist., 940 F.2d 397, 404 n.14 (9th Cir. 1991)
20 (citing 15 U.S.C. § 26 (providing that where Plaintiff substantially prevails on Sherman Act claim for 21 injunctive relief the Court shall award the costs and reasonable attorneys' fee)).

22         C.         DEFENDANT OMC'S MOTION TO DISMISS CLAIMS UNDER WCPA AND 23         PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO CERTIFY QUESTION TO WASHINGTON
24         SUPREME COURT

25                 1.         Motion to Dismiss Claims under WCPA

26         OMC moves for dismissal of the plaintiff's second and third claims on the grounds that municipal 27 corporations are exempt from the WCPA. In support of this argument, OMC cites to Washington Natural 28 Gas Co. v. Pub. Util. Dist. No. 1 of Snohomish County, 77 Wash. 2d 94 (1969). Dkt. 9 at 8-9. The plaintiff disputes OMC's reliance on Washington Natural Gas, instead urging a statutory construction of

1 the WCPA that would allow municipal corporations to be held liable under § 19.86.020 of the WCPA;
2 additionally, the plaintiff argues that OMC is not exempt from the WCPA because it acted outside of its 3 statutory authority. Dkt. 11 at 11. The plaintiff concedes the fact that OMC is classified as a municipal 4 corporation. Dkt. 1 ¶ 2.

5 The definitions section of the WCPA states that the term “‘person’ shall include, where applicable,
6 natural persons, corporations, trusts, unincorporated associations and partnerships.” Wash. Rev. Code §
7 19.86.010. Based in part on this definition, the Washington Supreme Court has stated that,

8 Nowhere does [WCPA’s] language imply that municipal corporations or political subdivisions of 9 the state are within the definition of persons and entities made subject to it. Thus, the legislature
10 did not employ language designed to bring public utility districts within the operation of the statute 11 nor leave room to include them within it by construction.

12 Washington Natural Gas, 77 Wash. 2d at 98. The plaintiff argues that this reasoning does not bar a claim 13 against OMC under § 19.86.020, because that section does not include the term “person” in it, but rather 14 simply prohibits “unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of 15 any trade or commerce.” Wash. Rev. Code § 19.86.020. While the cited section of the WCPA may not 16 specifically include the term “person,” there remains nothing in the Act as a whole that would indicate that 17 the legislature intended that specific section to apply beyond the meaning of “person” as defined in § 18 19.86.010.

19 The plaintiff further argues that holding OMC liable under the WCPA is consistent with the policies
20 outlined by the Washington Supreme Court as stated in Washington Natural Gas. The plaintiff attempts to 21 distinguish between municipal corporations such as public utility districts and irrigation cooperatives, 22 entities that are highly monitored and regulated, and hospital districts that are subject to very little 23 regulatory oversight. However, this is the exact argument that the Court disposed of in Washington
24 Natural Gas, albeit concerning a public utility district instead of a hospital district. After explaining that 25 the plaintiff was arguing that the utility district was acting in an area outside of regulatory control, the 26 court clearly stated,

27 Despite the persuasiveness of this argument and the hazards to the public welfare historically 28 apparent from business, commercial and public utility monopolies, we think that the legislature intended to exempt municipal corporations from the operation but not the benefits of the Consumer Protection Act.

Id. at 98.

1 In its analysis in Washington Natural Gas, the Court did not concern itself with what type of 2 activity the defendant had engaged in, or whether or not that activity was regulated; the defendant's status
3 as a municipal corporation was dispositive. Id. Similarly, whether OMC acted within its statutory 4 authority or not is not at issue here. The Washington Supreme Court has clearly declined to support the 5 plaintiff's argument, holding that municipal corporations are statutorily exempt from the WCPA.

6 Lastly, the plaintiff argues that the legislature did not intend to exempt municipal corporations from 7 the WCPA because of the provisions of the state health care antitrust safe-harbor statute. The health care
8 antitrust safe-harbor statute, Wash. Rev. Code § 43.72.310(3), allows health care facilities, providers, and 9 those involved in the development, delivery, and marketing of health care services to obtain immunity from 10 antitrust laws by filing a petition with the state Department of Health. The plaintiff argues that this statute
11 encompasses OMC as a hospital district, and therefore a ruling that allows OMC to be exempt from the 12 WCPA would be redundant and meaningless; rather, the plaintiff argues, OMC could obtain immunity from 13 antitrust actions by filing a petition with the state, which they did not do. However, this argument fails to 14 recognize the fact that, as stated earlier, the Washington Supreme Court has clearly ruled that municipal 15 corporations, including hospital districts, are exempt from the WCPA.

16 Accordingly, the plaintiff's second claim, alleging violations of the WCPA by monopolizing
17 intrastate commerce for the provision of medical oncology services in Clallam County, should be 18 dismissed; and the plaintiff's third claim, as it relates to OMC, alleging violations of the WCPA by 19 committing unfair and deceptive actions to further its own economic interests at the expense of the 20 plaintiff, should be dismissed.

21 2. Motion to Certify Question

22 The Washington Supreme Court has ruled on the exemption of municipal corporations from the 23 WCPA in clear and unambiguous terms. See Washington Natural Gas Co. v. Pub. Util. Dist. No. 1 of 24 Snohomish County, 77 Wash. 2d 94 (1969); Williamson v. Grant County Pub. Hosp. Dist. No. 1, 65
25 Wash. 2d 245, 251 (1964). Absent an issue of public importance that has not been resolved by the state 26 courts, the court will not seek certification of a legal question that appears to be settled. Cf. Kremen v.
27 Cohen, 325 F.3d 1035, 1037 (9th Cir. 2003)(certifying a significant question of state law that has not yet 28 been resolved by state courts). The plaintiff's motion to certify the question of whether a municipal

1 corporation acting outside of its statutory authority is exempted from the WCPA should be denied.

2 D. MOTION FOR LEAVE TO AMEND THE COMPLAINT

3 Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(a)(1) permits a party to amend the complaint before being served with a 4 responsive pleading; or within 20 days after serving the pleading if a responsive pleading is not allowed and 5 the action is not yet on the trial calendar. In all other cases, Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(a)(2) provides that “a party
6 may amend its pleading only with the opposing party's written consent or the court's leave. The court
7 should freely give leave when justice so requires.” In deciding whether to grant leave to amend, the court 8 considers five factors: “bad faith, undue delay, prejudice to the opposing party, futility of amendment, and 9 whether the plaintiff has previously amended the complaint. Futility alone can justify the denial of a motion
10 to amend.” Johnson v. Buckley, 356 F.3d 1067, 1077 (9th Cir. 2004)(internal quotations and citations 11 omitted).

12 The LGAA grants absolute immunity to local governments for antitrust damages actions.
13 Therefore, as plaintiff has conceded that OMC is a local government as considered by the LGAA, there is 14 no alternative pleading that the plaintiff can make to salvage claim one of his complaint as it relates to 15 damages.

16 Similarly, the WCPA clearly exempts municipal corporations from the Act. Therefore, as plaintiff
17 has conceded that OMC is a municipal corporation as considered by the applicable state code, there is no
18 alternative pleading that the plaintiff can make to salvage claims two or three of his complaint.

19 The plaintiff's footnote motion for leave to amend his complaint should be denied.
20

21 III. ORDER

22 Therefore, it is hereby, ORDERED that:

- 23 • Defendant Clallam County Public Hospital District No. 2's Motion for Partial Dismissal Pursuant to 24 Rule 12 (b)(6) (Dkt. 9) is GRANTED, and claim one of the complaint only insofar as it relates to 25 damages is DISMISSED, claim two of the complaint is DISMISSED, and claim three of the 26 complaint as it relates to Defendant Olympic Medical Center is DISMISSED;
27 • Plaintiff's Motion to Certify a Question to the Washington State Supreme Court (Dkt. 11) is 28 DENIED; and

1 • Plaintiff's Motion for Leave to Amend the Complaint (Dkt. 11) is DENIED.

2 The Clerk of the Court is directed to send uncertified copies of this Order to all counsel of record
3 and to any party appearing pro se at said party's last known address.

4 DATED this 15th day of October, 2009.
